The graph displays the annual number of deaths from AIDS in the United States. The x-axis represents the year from 1980 to 2010, with major ticks every five years. The y-axis represents the number of deaths, with labels at 0, 10,000, 20,000, 30,000, 40,000, and 50,000. The data is plotted as a line with circular markers. The number of deaths starts at approximately 35,000 in 1980, fluctuates, and peaks at about 45,000 in 1985. It then declines to around 25,000 by 1990. A sharp increase occurs in the mid-1990s, peaking at approximately 45,000 in 1995. Following this, there is a significant decline, with the number of deaths falling to about 15,000 by 2000 and remaining relatively stable around that level through 2011.
